Open letter to Rugged Logic Customers

Access Accounting Ltd and Decision Curve Ltd have jointly acquired the range of tools previously owned by Rugged Logic Ltd, creators of the 4CAST cash flow forecasting solution, the latter company having gone into voluntary liquidation.

Access Accounting Ltd had been working in partnership with Rugged Logic prior to the acquisition. The 4CAST tool is already a fully-integrated module within the award-winning Access Accounting business and finance portfolio, as well as providing cash flow forecasting for larger SMEs using alternative finance solutions. Our direct solutions division, Armstrong Consultants Ltd, with offices throughout the UK and Ireland, is ideally placed to provide ongoing support and consultancy.

Decision Curve Ltd, a company with an 18 year history in financial modelling for small business, will be providing a general market service under the Rugged Logic name and will be re-launching an off the shelf product for smaller SMEs, through its popular Cashflow Wizard brand of easy to use solutions. Complementing Access's mid-tier solutions and nationwide service infrastructure, Decision Curve will be operating entirely over the internet to provide low-cost alternatives for small or owner managed businesses and start-ups.

We will be contacting you to discuss your specific requirements in the next few weeks, but would welcome any enquiries you may have regarding the products and their ongoing support. Our joint intention is to identify the most appropriate support model for your organisation, and will look to take on existing support commitments where a contract extension can be agreed.

We hope you will bear with us during this transitional period, but in the meantime if you have any queries please contact us as below.

Best regards,

Alex Reeves, Access Accounting
